A community symbol for vasovagal syncope

What the symbol means

- The lotus stands for strength and resilience. It rises through muddy water and still blooms.
- The swirl stands for dizziness, the moment the room starts to turn.
- The turquoise ring is a nod to the dysautonomia awareness colour, so the symbol sits within that wider community.
- The purple is my own colour choice.

Using it

Free to use and share to raise awareness of vasovagal syncope, in support groups, on social media and for personal use. Please don't sell it or alter it, and please credit Mended Arts.

About this symbol

Created using ChatGPT in 2025 from my own design direction, and finished in Canva. This is a community symbol from Mended Arts. It is not an official symbol of any medical charity or organisation.
